

Positive List: Continuing Professional Development

Members of the Danish Society of Actuaries who meet the association's expectations for continuing education

Last updated on 2 January 2023

A member of the Danish Society of Actuaries (Den Danske Aktuarforening) is expected to continuously maintain their professional knowledge as an actuary. This is done through continuing education so that the member meets the outside world's legitimate expectations and requirements of an actuary at all times. The member is expected both to keep their actuarial qualifications up to date and to develop their professional skills in the sectors in which actuarial competences are in use.

A member of the Danish Society of Actuaries is considered to have sufficient continuing education if the member meets the association's stated qualitative and quantitative requirements for continuing education. The requirements have been developed to be in line with the "Continuing Professional Development" (CPD) standards of the International Actuarial Association and the Actuarial Association of Europe. A member who meets the requirements is designated as a CPD-approved member.

In addition to being CPD-approved, a member may also meet specific educational requirements that entitle the member to use the designation Qualifying Actuary. Qualifying Actuary is an international designation for those actuaries who meet both the CPD requirements and specific international educational requirements for actuaries.

Below is a list of the Danish Society of Actuaries' CPD-approved members, i.e. members who meet the association's expectations for continuing education. Is the member also a Qualifying Actuary, this is marked with an asterisk (*). The list includes those members who met the requirements as at the above date and who wish to appear on the list. The list will be updated at least once a year.
